Out of the blackness of night emerge the first faint rays of a gray dawn. Another Easter Sunday bursts radiant upon the world. Easter Bells ring clear and true, conveying the spirit of the day — renewed hope, renewed inspiration, renewed courage. With the warming sun above and the warmer holy faith within us, our hearts echo the pealing of the bells "And Rejoice in Hope of the Glory of God."

Join with others of your fellowmen. Let your steps be guided through the sacred portals of the church where calm and peace and solace to poor, suffering humanity, abide in abundance. Your Church is your haven in these troublous times. Your God is your Strength. Go, therefore and worship this Easter Sunday and all Sundays henceforth.

No Long Face To Believe God's Word

From the "War Cry" by H. F. Milans, one time editor of the New York Tribune.

I have a fine Christian friend in New York City—a physician. During some forty years of practice he has seen much of life at its beginning and more at its earthly ending. One day I asked him what he thought it was that made people cling to life when death would be a blessed relief from affliction that the science of medicine cannot possibly cure. "Well," said my doctor friend, "people hold to the hope that we will eventually get them back on their feet again somehow, even by a miracle. At any rate, death will be staved off. They lack faith in God's promises and fear the unfathomable mystery of the hereafter. If and when they do recover God's love is soon forgotten and eternal punishment once more becomes only a bugaboo with which to frighten bad little boys. But that ghost is one that won't be laid. It will be back."

The wrath of God is not one of the popular subjects these days: so the pulpits skip it. The opiate of His great love for us is magnified, and His warnings of eternal punishment minimized. Surely, He can't be so cruel as to cast us into hell! Religious publications are as silent as the preacher. They stress God's love, but seldom His wrath; they proclaim His mercy, but not His judgment. We are left to forget about it—if we can.

My doctor friend told me of a patient who, had been brought down to death's door by his sinning. He was rich, and pleaded that the best physicians be brought in as consultants. In an agony of fear, the man who had scoffed at God and eternity now cried: "You've got to save me. Doctor! You mustn't let me die! Suppose the stories about hell are true! Oh, Doctor, you've got to save me!"

And the doctor ceased being a physician and became a soul-winner. He put aside the medicine for prayer, and the sickbed of his panic-stricken patient became an altar where a lost soul found quiet from fear. His long face left. Sin had injured the patient's body beyond repair, but Jesus cleansed the soul for him and made him whole. Peace came with the precious thought, "My mistakes His free grace has covered; my sins He has washed away; and the feet that slipped and faltered shall walk through The Gates of Day."

We can't settle this matter of hell by dodging it. The lake of fire is not to be quenched by flooding it with ridicule. The horrifying fear of it will return with increasing fury at the first indication that death's messenger is come. And this fear is fully justified.

A newspaper chum of mine used to curse me as a fool for thinking of God and life after death. He used to exclaim: "It just isn't common sense." One day, while crossing the railroad tracks at Princeton N.J., a train hit him. The rear-end brakeman told us reporters that he reached our friend's broken body just as he was moaning, "O God, I'll go to hell!"

Maybe he did. He never regained consciousness. Any of us can die just that suddenly any hour.

God never says one thing and means another. When He warns us of hell there is one. He calls it a lake of fire that shall never be quenched, which is also well for us to accept as being true.

A Canadian correspondent tells me that a short time after her conversion several years ago, she heard an old-time Methodist minister explain what the Bible had to say about hell. Like so many of us, she had thought only of Heaven's eternal reward, not of hell's never-ending torment. When she realized what it really meant she was seized with a terrifying dread, not for her own safety, for she had been reborn in Christ. Jesus, but for her unconverted loved ones and friends. What if any one of them should die un saved? For a time, she said, this thought that they might reap God's eternal wrath drove her almost crazy with fear. She knew no peace until they also had been brought to Christ. This reaction and its impelling spiritual energy, I venture, is quite new to most of us, isn't it?

I wonder if it would not be wise, in these days of complacent indifference to the consequences of sin, for us to revise our preaching programs some, and, occasionally at any rate, emphasize the truth that while God is love and faithful to His unchanging laws. And that there is a hell and punishment, as He warns us. At least this would be consistent with the pledge to expound God's Word.

Oh it is such a comfortable feeling that no matter what happens, or where, it is well with one's soul! "Perfect love casts out all fear," (Bible).

GALLANT STAND OF AMERICAN TROOPS SAVES MUCH VALUABLE MATERIAL FOR EIGHTH ARMY

Allied Headquarters in North Africa—Countless hundreds of tons of supplies awaited Great Britain's 8th Army when, after a history-making advance across North African deserts, it joined hands with United States troops in central Tunisia.

When the American 2nd Army Corps of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton recently rolled southward it seemed to the casual observer the Americans were using a sledge hammer to swat a fly. United States infantry seized a stronghold east of El Guejar on the Gates road and an armored column smashed through Seneel and Maknassy to block the other avenue of attack.

Close behind the army came the greatest fleet of motor transport yet mustered in the Tunisian campaign: hundreds of trucks rolling southward laden with materials the 8th Army would need when it arrived. Long convoys arrived during night and day.

The stores they piled up in a few days would have been a rich prize for Marshal Erwin Rommel and perhaps he knew it, for soon there came a slashing tank assault on United States infantry positions near El Guejar. It might have won but for the gallantry of the American soldiers who remained at their posts and battled the tanks at point-blank range with every weapon available after the panzer thrust had made a seven-mile penetration into the lines.

That stand saved the dumps created to free Gen. Montgomery from further dependence on supply lines stretching far behind him to Egypt and assured him ready access to material needed for a sustained pursuit of Axis troops retreating northward.

No Decision On Wheat Sales To United States

Ottawa.—Trade Minister MacKinnon said that discussions on the possible sale of Canadian wheat to the United States have been under way at Washington but "no finality" has been reached.

He said he could give no information on possible amounts involved in any sale, and could not confirm one report that about 50,000,000 bushels of Canadian grain would be involved in the transaction.

Railway transportation required for the movement of grain is a matter of equal concern in Canada and the United States, Mr. MacKinnon said.

George Melvor, Canadian wheat board chairman, has been in Washington and was believed to be discussing a prospective sale with United States authorities.

The railway transportation problem, due to the limited number of cars available to meet extraordinary war demands in addition to civilian traffic, might have a bearing on United States purchases of Canadian grain, it was understood.

Stocks of the five principal Canadian grain crops held in all North American positions—including stocks on Canadian farms—totalled 1,389,511,867 bushels at March 31, compared with 735,315,483 bushels a year earlier, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported.

"Wheat accounted for 798,000,000 bushels or 57 per cent. of the total, but the stocks of oats and barley, especially the supplies still in farmers' hands, were unusually large, reflecting the record crops produced in 1942," the bureau said.

"It should be noted, however, that seed for the 1943 crops is included in the farm stocks and the acreage objectives for wheat, oats, barley, rye and flaxseed this year call for the planting of approximately 44,000,000 acres to these crops."

The bureau said the estimates of 1942 crops are subject to further revision. Threshing operations involving grain still in the fields when winter struck western Canada "may have an important bearing on these estimates and on the stocks now reported in farmers' hands, both of which include an allowance for unthreshed grain."

"A new high level of wheat stocks at the end of March is recorded for this year," the bureau said. The total of 790,000,000 bushels in Canada compared with 551,000,000 bushels a year previous. The quantity in

Charts Being Prepared To Make Rationed Meat Buying Simple

Ottawa.—The prices board said in a statement that deciding what kind of meat to buy under the forthcoming rationing plan won't be a "complicated problem" for Canadian housewives. Comprehensive charts are being prepared by the board for display in every meat store when rationing begins.

"The charts will show exactly how much of every type of meat and every kind of cut can be had for ration coupons," the board said. They'll be the official guide for both butcher and customer.

"Preparing the charts are men with long years of experience in the butchering trade, who have the benefit of experts in every field to assist them. It is no mean task. The charts must include all the information necessary for buying hundreds of different cuts of meat."

The weekly ration of meat is to be about two pounds per person, but the coupon value of different cuts has still to be announced.

Young Seaman Honored For Bravery After Vessel Was Torpedoed

London.—The London Gazette announced that George Alvin Decker, 21-year-old Vancouver merchant seaman, has been awarded the British Empire medal for helping to save shipmates after his vessel was torpedoed last autumn.

Safe in a lifeboat, Decker left it to swim to a second which had capsized and helped to right it and rescue sailors struggling in the water.

The youth at present is working in a war factory to earn money to send home an English bride he met during an air raid in Hull when both took shelter in a doorway.

Once that is done, he says, he will go back to sea.

Wins Award For Canadian Composers

For the second successive year 21-year-old Robert J. B. Fleming, of Saskatoon, is winner in the all-Canada competition, sponsored by the Canadian Performing Right Society, open to Canadian composers under 22 years of age. He wins a $750 scholarship at the Toronto Conservatory of Music. Mr. Fleming is pictured (standing) with Dr. Healey Willan, noted Canadian composer, under whom he has been studying.

JAP BROADCAST

Announced Preparations Made For Air Offensive Against America

London.—The Tokyo radio broadcast a speech by Maj. Gen. Kenryo Sato, chief of the bureau of military affairs, declaring that preparations for a Japanese air offensive against the American continent have been completed.

In his speech, the general said "a vast air attack on the American mainland" was envisaged, with Japanese, German and Italian air forces striking in collaboration.

LEGACY FOR MCGILL

Montreal.—One-tenth of the residue of the estate of the late Sir Edward Beatty has been bequeathed to McGill University, it was announced by the university board of governors. The amount of the bequest was not disclosed. The university also receives Sir Edward's library.

H.M.C.S. Winnipeg Largest Naval Craft Built On Great Lakes

Ottawa.—The Royal Canadian Navy's new minesweeper H.M.C.S. Winnipeg, first of a new class of such naval craft, is the largest naval vessel ever to be built on the Great Lakes, a naval service headquarters spokesman said.

The Winnipeg—the exact specifications were not made public—is bigger than the corvettes which previously were built on the lakes for the Canadian and British navies.

CADET UNIFORMS

Ottawa.—National defence headquarters announced that, smartly designed new uniforms will be distributed to Royal Canadian Army Cadets. The uniforms are for about 70,000 Canadian boys and include new blouses, trousers, caps, shirts and ties.

ACCORDING TO REPORT ITALY IS PREPARING FOR DEFENCE AGAINST EXPECTED INVASION

London.—Mussolini was reported by the Berlin radio to have declared Sicily, Sardinia and smaller islands at Italy's southern flank as an area of military operations in a move interpreted here as throwing up defences against expected Allied attack.

The action was preceded by a shakeup of the Italian police, which some London observers said was an attempt to deal with potential shakers and saboteurs who might impair defence of Italy.

The Moscow radio said a state of emergency had been declared in Sardinia following discovery of an "anti-government organization working to disrupt the military measures of the Italian-German command." Three arrests were reported.

The move by Mussolini followed his four-day conference with Hitler to contrive strategy and rally resources against Allied invasions. The action was interpreted here as suggesting that Mussolini shares the view held in some British quarters that the cleanup of Axis forces in Tunisia will be swift and complete.

It is known that Naples has been evacuated at least partially and similar moves may be made in Sardinia and Sicily in line with the Axis policy of clearing civilians from potential frontline areas and heavily-bombed cities.

Rome despatches to the Swiss newspaper, Tribune de Geneve, reported that authority which had been taken away from Italian army officers and entrusted to Nazi officers had been restored to the Italians and that the "framework of the Italian high command was reorganized."

The despatch said authority in tactical matters as well as methods of provisioning and organizing the army had been restored to Italian officers, apparently in an effort to reorganize the sorely-trying Italian military machine and erase some of the bitterness between German and Italian officers.

The London Daily Sketch reported Mussolini has moved his family to a town on the Adriatic coast. It said Mussolini will remain in Rome.

Fourth Victory Loan Same As Former Issues

Hamilton, Ont.—G. W. Spinney, chairman of the national war finance committee, deflated a rumor he claimed was being spread concerning Canada's impending Fourth Victory Loan and scored rumor-mongering in time of war as "a curse," in an address prepared for delivery here at a loan rally.

"The outstanding rumor in this campaign," he said, "is that the three per cent. bonds differ from previous issues and cannot be turned into cash until the official redemption date. Nothing could be further from the truth. Fourth Victory Loan bonds, like earlier issues, may be sold for cash at any time."

Continuing, he said, "The redemption date mentioned in the official announcement made by Mr. Haley refers only to the time after which the government has the option of paying off the whole issue before maturity at 100 cents on the dollar."

Mr. Spinney said he had observed with some "curiosity and interest" that whenever a loan was about to be launched "rumors of a malicious type increase in intensity." He pointed out that "one could almost plot a curve showing that this rumor crop rises sharply pre-loan and slumps off after the operation is over."

He said such stories were "in all probability of enemy origin, for similar stories have been set afloat in the United States."

Mr. Spinney said the success of Canada's Fourth Victory Loan is of more vital significance to the war program and the future of Canada than any previous financial undertaking in the nation's history.

The loan, opening April 26 with a minimum objective of $1,000,000,000, has the double duty of providing funds for war needs and preventing inflation, Mr. Spinney said. With spending power high and available civilian goods becoming constantly scarcer, Canada faced a "perfect setup" for inflation unless action was taken to avoid it.

"This is why it is so vitally necessary that this loan and subsequent loans must, to a greater extent than formerly, gather up this excess spending power and divert it to the war program," he said.

"That is why every effort is being made to avoid, as far as possible, financing the war needs through the sale of securities to the banks; for, beyond certain limits, this is inflationary finance."

China Undertaking Huge Transfer To More Protected Interior

Chungking.—China is planning a huge moving program to transfer vulnerable war plants to the more protected interior.

The government plans to move 639 plants now operating in southwest China to the northwest part of the country. This will mark the second move for many of the war plants.

When the Japanese invaded China in 1937 about 450 industries were moved from the coastal areas to the interior.

The industries represent a total machinery weight of over 117,000 tons.

Mexico City.—Jacques Morand was brought to court in an iron cage to hear a formal sentence of 20 years imprisonment for killing Leon Trotsky, famous Russian revolutionist. Chief Judge Jose Maria Garza of the sixth court said the penal judges had decided on the 20-year term, the maximum sentence. Mexico has no death penalty. Trotsky was killed in August, 1940.

LOSSES ARE FEW

Statement By Postmaster-General On Delivery Of Cigarettes Overseas

Ottawa.—Postmaster-General Mulock said in the House of Commons some "thoughtless and uninformed individuals" have blackened the character of Canadians in the army postal service through statements about cigarettes not being delivered.

In a lengthy statement, Col. Mulock gave figures showing 21,149,974 parcels of cigarettes and tobacco were sent to men overseas in 1942, and of these 61,859 were lost as a result of enemy action. Complaints of non-receipt of cigarettes and tobacco in the year numbered 3,581, and of these the post office was able satisfactorily to account for 3,547.

Brigadier Simonds Now Commands Canadian Army Division As Major-General

Ottawa.—Appointment of Brig. Guy Granville Simonds, 39, of Kingston, Ont., as general officer commanding a Canadian army division overseas, and his promotion to the rank of major-general, was announced by defence headquarters.

He succeeds Maj. Gen. J. H. Roberts, leader of the Canadian force which attacked Dieppe last August, whose appointment to command all Canadian army reinforcements units in Britain was announced recently. Gen. Roberts is 52.

Defence headquarters said that at 39 Gen. Simonds is the youngest major-general in the Canadian army.

Blairmore School Wins First Monthly Contest in War Savings Stamps; Coleman Down in List

Contest Now in Second Month; Principals Have Better Idea of Setting New Quotas.

The first month of competition between Pass schools in purchasing war stamps came to an end on April 14, the competition officially starting on March 11. Blairmore (main) school proved handy winners with 438% above their quota.

Here is how they finished: (%) Blairmore (Main) School 438 Blairmore (West) School 328 Hillcrest 316 Bellevue 267 Frank 232 Coleman (Central) 187 Coleman (West) 135

The first month was more or less of a feeler, as the school principals had to first find out how the students would react to the competition in order to set fair quotas for each school and for each classroom. Now that the first monthly contest has been completed they have figures to guide them in setting new quotas.

Following is how the local classrooms at Central school purchased stamps (in percentages): Grade XII, 152; X, 108; IX, 119; VIII-A, 225; VIII-B, 743; VII-A, 71; VII-B, 155; VI, 354; V, 109; IV, 458; I, II and III, Room A, 115; I, II and III, Room B, 287; I, II and III, Room C, 167; I, II and III, Room D, 137.

It will be noticed that Grade VIII-B purchased 743% above its allotted quota. The teacher was Mr. Ray Spillers, who evidently enthused his pupils to get into the spirit of the contest, and he was most successful, as his classroom record shows.

Principal Hoyle was in charge of the Coleman competition, and will endeavor to train his students to forego the desire to buy the odd ice cream cone, package of gum, etc., and place the money in war savings stamps.

Now that results have been obtained in the first contest and shows Coleman at the bottom of the list, local students will make sure that they will get close to the top if not lead the entire Pass in next month's contest.

Coleman Lions club president, R. R. Pattinson, presented the Lions' club picture of Churchill and Roosevelt to the winning school at Blairmore in a ceremony on Wednesday afternoon. A number of visiting airmen and war finance committee officials from Lethbridge and Pass towns were in attendance.

Relatives of Soldiers Please Take Notice

Investigation by the local Victory Loan publicity committee reveals that no agency in town has the complete list of all names of Coleman men and women in the armed forces.

The Legion has a list containing many names of both men and women, but there are a number of omissions. The same applies to other agencies.

The Victory Loan committee requires the names of every local man and woman in the services by Saturday April 24, at the latest. An appeal is made to relatives of all local persons in the service to phone or place in the mail, addressed to either F. Aboussafy or The Journal, the name of your husband, son or daughter.

The committee have a number of names on file, but do not let that deter you from sending in the name of your family member, as it is quite possible his or her name may have been overlooked.

The committee is earnest in its desire to get ALL names and is bending every effort to reach that goal. With the help of relatives they can get them on or before next Saturday. Next week it is hoped to publish a list of all Colemans in the forces. Do not let your own name be omitted. If any omissions do occur do not under any circumstances blame the local publicity committee as its members are doing all in their power to get all names.

Once again, send or leave names at either F. Aboussafy's or The Journal office by Saturday, April 24.

Huge Amount Expected to be Subscribed By Coleman Citizens; Efficient Canvassers Ready for Opening

Once Again Citizens Can Subscribe Through Canvassers, Local Bank or at Loan Headquarters; Quota Can Be Easily Reached Should All Citizens Co-operate.

The first war loan of 1943 and the Fourth Victory Loan of the war will open on Monday, April 26. The federal government, right down to the canvasser, is ready for the campaign, which will result in the subscribing of $1,100,000,000 by the citizens and institutions of Canada.

Coleman has been given a quota of $125,000, the highest in the history of the town. Given the financial co-operation of all citizens, Coleman can very easily reach its quota. To say that it is impossible to raise that amount is a foolish statement, for there is no doubt in the minds of any thinking citizen that there is a great many times that amount available for investment in Coleman.

Greater thought will be needed, however, by all citizens, before investing in the loan. This is the year designated for the attack on Hitler's Europe. The amount of equipment needed for the attack on Hitler's Europe is enormous, and the Canadian government is doing its best to produce her share to be successful.

The truism has again and again been stated: "It is better to have a little than to have none." It is better to have a little than to have none. It is better to have a little than to have none. It is better to have a little than to have none.

As the war turns out, it is better to have a little than to have none. It is better to have a little than to have none. It is better to have a little than to have none. It is better to have a little than to have none.

HOW MUCH Did You Save LAST YEAR?

One of these days a man will call on you to talk to you about saving money. The caller will be one of your neighbors, or a man from your nearest town who is likely well known to you.

He is asking you to save money when he asks you to buy a Victory Bond. He is not asking you to give money to anybody or anything.

You save money when you buy a Victory Bond . . . and you lend your money to Canada to help win the war. The money you save is yours. You will get it back later on, and have it to do anything you wish with it. And Canada will pay you 3% interest on your savings every year until the loan is paid back to you.

TAKE A FEW MINUTES TO FIGURE OUT HOW YOU ARE GETTING ALONG

This is something that every man should do now and then.

You will see how you are getting along by comparing savings with earnings. It's what you save that counts.

Perhaps you will say you saved all you could. Did you? Remember you are asking yourself questions. You are not getting figures to show anyone but yourself. Can you figure out how you can save more?

A sure way to save money is to save it in small sums—as you get it. Victory Bonds—which can be paid for in small instalments covering a six-months' period—provide a convenient method of carrying out a savings programme. Your Victory Bond salesman will tell you all particulars.

WHAT IS A VICTORY BOND?

A VICTORY BOND is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay in cash the full face value of the Bond at the time stipulated, with half-yearly interest at the rate of 3% per annum until maturity. A Victory Bond is the safest investment in Canada. The entire resources of the Dominion stand behind it. Canada has been issuing bonds for 75 years, and has never failed to pay every dollar of principal and interest.

A Victory Bond is an asset more readily converted into cash than any other security.

Coleman to Experience Blackout Easter Sunday At 9:45; Ground Defences To Be Seen In Action

Citizens Asked to View Show From Hillside to Main Street; Air Officers From Lethbridge Macleod in Charge of All Arrangements.

Coleman can consider itself the luckiest small town in the entire province in being able to stage a Blackout to start the Fourth Victory Loan campaign. Only four blackouts and the equipment for staging the accompanying shows were allotted Alberta. Two were originally scheduled for Calgary and two for Edmonton.

The aggressive southern Alberta Loan Publicity committee however had other ideas and succeeded in getting one of the shows and have brought the equipment to Coleman where they, with the aid of the local publicity committee, will stage a Blackout and show on Easter Sunday starting at 9:45 p.m.

The local Publicity chairman has lined up fourteen helpers in addition to having the St. John Ambulance, fire department, Air Cadets, the R.C.M.P. and the ambulance on duty that evening.

Mr. McFarland, of the Lethbridge publicity committee, and air officers from Lethbridge and Macleod were here on Wednesday surveying the town and making plans for the show.

They have designated five buildings on which flares and smoke bombs will be set up to give one the impression the buildings are on fire. All buildings having those flares will have attendants on them so that no damage will result to property.

Vacant lots have been chosen in the town down areas where ground defences will be set up.

The officers will bring a number of experienced men with them, who in turn will have local men as assistants.

International will take the opportunity of permitting with the show and will have of them blacked out.

The alarm will be 9:45 and the music C.P.R. locomotive, and school bells will sound the alarm. In Coleman will be warded out their homes, the flickers will be out. Those having side homes are asked to the windows as much as possible.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Burdens of War Should be Shared by All

The news bulletin sent out byvincial government states, "A surprising disallowance of Alberta's Lands Sales Prohibition Act by the Dominion was reported. The act, which was amended at the recent session, was intended to prevent enemy aliens from acquiring land in large quantities while Canadians are fighting overseas to preserve their land. Disallowance came on the question of dealing with enemy aliens, which is deemed to be a Dominion responsibility."

The acquisition of large tracts of land in Alberta has been the subject of acrimonious criticism, particularly by men serving in the armed forces and their relatives. The provincial legislation, as applied to this section, would prevent the Hutnerites from purchasing any more land for the duration. About two years ago the Canadian Legion brought arguments to bear which resulted in action being taken, and it is this which has recently been disallowed by the Federal government, greatly to the surprise of people in Alberta.

The criticism of the Hutnerites or other sects which were granted immunity from military service is based on the fact that they are escaping duties which all others have to bear. In plain words, they stay at home and pursue their peaceful avocation while the young men of all other families go forth to war.

The Hutnerites are a thrifty people; that is well known. They are pleasant to meet and confine their activities to the tilling of the soil. They are almost self-contained and do not assimilate into Canadian life as do emigrants from Europe. They are entirely an agricultural people as far as experience has proved in southern Alberta, and do not enter into the building up of urban centres. No criticism is to be levelled at them; farming is their way of life.

But there are many other avenues whereby these exempted people can help to at least pull their weight. Appeals for Red Cross and Victory Loan campaigns provide them that opportunity, yet records of local campaign committees show only very meagre support to these appeals, not at all in proportion to the support given by the rest of the population. It is not for want of requests being made, and only one interpretation can be placed on the figures shown in the records, and that is a lack of willingness to give.

The young men of these sects, if called for service, are given what really are peace-time jobs; but which may help in the war effort. But of sacrifice as known and endured by all people of the Empire, they are not called on to endure. Since 1918 when the first Hutnerite Colony was established in this district, there have been three more developed besides several more in other parts of the province. It shows that the land of their choice has enabled them to prosper while enjoying the same rights and privileges as the rest of the people. If, by a short-sighted provision of the Federal government, made years ago that they would not be called on for military service, as some compensation for their preferred treatment they should be among the first and the most willing to come forward and support the appeals which are made for the Red Cross and Victory Loan campaigns.

A spokesman for the Hutnerites told a delegation which called on him that they did not believe in war, and would not contribute any funds for strictly war purposes. If this line of reasoning were followed Great Britain left Canada to its fate, would the Hutnerites or any other sect escape their share of responsibility under the German heel, or would they turn right in and welcome the conquerors? It is time that the Federal government took stock of the increasing dissatisfaction which is evident in the minds of the people in relation to military exemption and the granting of special privileges. It is not urged that the agreement made when the Hutnerites came to Canada, should be broken. But it should be amended so that the clause exempting them from military service should no longer apply.

All who share in the rights and liberty of citizenship should bear an equal share of the burden in the crisis which Canada is common with all other Democracies, faces.

Too Many Political Groups

Prime Minister Mackenzie King gave a warning that our Canadian Parliament might be weakened by the introduction of too many political groups striving for power. The fall of France demonstrated the danger, for there was little if any cohesion in the government there, with the result that no leader or party could inspire confidence or leadership when the Germans invaded their country.

We have noticed in the past few weeks the time wasting debates in the House of Commons, and those who talked the most had little of real value to add. Democracy boasts of its freedom and equality, yet it has its weaknesses. These are preferred to a totalitarian form of government. Yet in wartime particularly it is noticed that some members are more keen to place party first and thereby use up time which should be devoted to more vital use, than they are to contribute their propaganda towards winning the war.

Some advocate government ownership of everything; others claim that purchasing power can be created by printing money. Government operation of anything is far less efficient than private ownership. Under private ownership results have to be achieved, for inefficient and wasteful operation would result in bankruptcy. Some of the disclosures made in parliament clearly prove the wastefulness of government operations. People are observing these things very closely, and as they are being asked to subscribe large sums towards winning the war, they should be demanding that waste should be eliminated.

Only a very few people read Hansard, the official record of proceedings in the House of Commons, yet it reveals the extent to which time is absolutely wasted, putting the country to needless expense. Too many groups determined to get their own brand of politics before the House, is a dangerous condition during wartime. The work of the government is often obstructed and embarrassed, and to cabinet ministers who have to get things done, many of the debates must be a terrible headache. It is on record that usually the members who talk the least in the house render far more service to their constituents and to the country at large than those who take every opportunity to get the ear of the house and take forty minutes of time once they get on to their feet.

No wonder the House is almost empty at times. It must be absolutely boring to sit and listen to a lot of talk. Glance over an occasional copy of Hansard; you'll gain a good impression of the futility of much that is spoken.

Must Buy Bonds

Beer or no beer, we must buy bonds. Though there is discontent over the rationing of beer, particularly in places where there are large numbers of industrial workers, this should not be the cause of men refusing to buy bonds. If we do not buy bonds, we are not helping the war effort, and win or lose, we are all in the same boat. We simply must put up with inconveniences, which after all are small compared with the loss of a home or being bombed to death.

Buying bonds is a good form of saving, with a return on the money in the form of interest. It is good business to buy bonds, as well as a patriotic gesture. To cry "No beer, no bonds," is petty.

Credit Unions

Latest applications for charters bring to 94 the number of credit unions in Alberta. The movement has been in existence only four years, and many new groups are forming. When charter No. 100 is granted it is planned to broadcast a round table discussion with speakers including representatives of Credit Union No. 1 and No. 100 present.

President Caroline Newman, of Rebekah Assembly, Visits Coleman

President of the Rebekah Assembly Caroline Newman, of Edmonton, paid her official visit to Victoria Rebekah lodge on Tuesday evening. A number of visiting brothers and sisters from Bellevue and Blairmore lodges were present.

Addresses were given by Brother Cousins, P.G.M., of Bellevue, Sister Dunlop, P.V. P., of Coleman, and Sisters Shevels, D.D.P. and Goodwin, N. G., of Bellevue.

Sister Cornett was presented with her P.G. certificate. Following the business session a dainty lunch was served after which Sister Vincent, N.G., on behalf of Victoria Rebekah lodge, presented Sister Newman with a gift.

WEST END MARKET TO CLOSE DOORS MAY 8

One Partner Called Into Armed Forces; Had Built Up Good Business

Still another local store will close its doors next month due to war conditions. The partnership of Rezac and Salus will be broken up due to Mr. Salus having received his call into the armed forces and will report for military duty towards the middle of May.

The two young men went into partnership last April when Mr. Salus bought out the share held in the business by a Mr. Tekel, of West Coleman, Mr. Rezac having gone into partnership with the latter in May 1941.

Ill health makes it impossible for Mr. Rezac to carry on alone and since no help could be secured there was no alternative but to close the doors. It is to be regretted that this step had to be taken as both men had begun to build up a good business and were gradually increasing their stock.

Present stocks will be sold to the public until the closing date, May 8, after which an interested party will take over the stock remaining.

Funeral of Alex. Beck Held Thurs.

The funeral of Alexander Beck was conducted Thursday, April 15, at 3 p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman MacAulay for the family and friends, and then proceeded to St. Paul's United church, where a public service was conducted, and where a large number attended to pay their last respects to a devoted member of the United church.

At the house service, Rev. J. E. Kirk based his few brief remarks on the first Psalm and third verse: "And he shall be like a tree planted by the stream of water, that bringeth forth its fruit in its season, whose leaf also doth not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper."

The sermon text at the church was taken from the sixth chapter of Micah and eighth verse: "He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth Jehovah require of thee, but to do justly, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with thy God."

The hymns were: "Lead Kindly Light" and "Rock of Ages." A portion of a letter which had been written by Mr. Beck to Rev. Mr. Kirk three days before his passing, was read at the service. Mr. Beck had enquired about the thirty-seventh anniversary of St. Paul's United church, of which he was an elder, and enclosed his anniversary offering, wishing God speed to the congregation in its services and Christian influence.

Family members attending the funeral from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. A. Barbour, of Lethbridge; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beck, of Hillcrest, and Messrs. Fernie and Wallace Beck, of Vancouver. A number of friends attended from out of town, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. John McCrae and son, of Pincher Creek.

Pallbearers were W. L. Rippon, J. Emmerson, J. Glendinning, H. C. McBurney, W. McGrath and J. O. C. McDonald. Interment was in Coleman Union cemetery.

HARTLEY DAFOE, LOCAL BANK TELLER, TO LEAVE FOR HIGH RIVER

Mr. Hartley Dafeo has received instructions to report for duty at the Canadian Bank of Commerce branch at High River and expects to leave for his new assignment this week. His successor is Mr. Charles Thornton, of Lethbridge.

Mr. Dafeo came to the local branch in December, 1940, and has been employed in the capacity of teller during his stay here. At the High River branch he will be accountant.

Mrs. Dafeo and Lenore will remain here till June, when the local schools close for the summer holidays.

Mr. Thornton, who will succeed Mr. Dafeo, is no stranger to Coleman, as he has substituted at the local branch the past two years when members of the staff were on vacation.

Council Will Invest $1,000 In Victory Bonds: To Aid Publicity Committee At Blackout on Sunday

Tractor Busy At Flood Control Work; Council Moves to Make Removal of Ashes by All Citizens Compulsory; Cemeteries to be Inspected.

Regular meeting of the council was held on Monday evening; present: Mayor Antrobus, Councillors Abousaffy, Cox, Dutil, Ford, Jenkins and Ramsay.

J. M. Rushton was present and asked council to take measures to prevent the run-off water from a nearby hill from draining through his yard on east main street. The Works and Property committee was authorized to inspect the drainage system in that area and make necessary changes.

A letter was received from Lieut. Marks, of the Salvation Army, asking council's permission to demolish an old ice-house on the lot adjoining the new Army building and to use the lumber for firewood. Permission was granted, as the "ice-house" is at present an eyesore on main street.

Mrs. Eulalia Denotaris was recommended to receive the Old Age pension.

Assessor Charles May was engaged to visit Coleman next April and make further assessment where needed.

Charles Makin was present to give council facts and figures pertaining to collection of ashes. He stated 1942 income was $1,605, and expenses and wages to hired help amounted to $853. Since he had failed to allow for truck depreciation, council estimated that $200 was a fair figure, leaving a balance of $552 for Mr. Makin. Mr. Makin declared 90 homes were not allowing their ashes to be hauled away, the householders just dumping the ashes on the streets and back alleys. He worked an average of 37 1/2 days per week collecting ashes. Some councillors got busy with pencil and paper and came up with the figures that if all householders paid for removal of ashes at 30c per month, Mr. Makin would stand to make $156 per month, with miscellaneous expenses included in that amount. If the fee was risen to 35c per month the amount would be $182, less expenses.

It was reported that the majority of persons refusing to have ashes removed resided in West Coleman, there being almost a whole side on one street not having their ashes hauled away.

A notice of motion was recorded that amendments to the existing Garbage by-law would be made at the next meeting, making it compulsory within the incorporated area of the town of Coleman to have ashes removed by the ashman appointed by the council. Failure to have ashes removed will result in prosecution.

The account submitted by Electrician Murphy, of Cowley, for installing the new street lighting system, was authorized paid.

Councillor Abousaffy, who is also chairman of the local National War Finance Publicity Committee, gave a detailed report of the Blackout program to be staged in Coleman on the evening of Easter Sunday, April 24. He asked and received the services of Fire Chief Antle and members and equipment of the local fire department.

The services of Mayor Antrobus, Councillors Dutil, Ramsay and Ford were secured to help ground crews, and should Councillors Cox and Jenkins be in town they, too, will give their services.

As a result of the letter sent Mr. A. E. Ferguson re the local cemeteries, a discussion arose on the unsightliness of the cemeteries. One councillor stated that they were an eyesore and a discredit to the town in their present condition. In this all councillors were in full accord. Suggestions made by Mr. Ferguson were presented by Councillor Dutil and they probably will be acted upon. As a result of the discussion, several councillors will inspect the cemeteries this week and work will start on minor improvements, such as digging out big boulders, which jut out of the ground and are capable of causing damage to cars. However, the councillors were authorized to give serious study to major improvements at both cemeteries and report back at the next regular meeting.

It is some time since an official inspection was made by a local health officer into sanitary conditions at local restaurants, and it was agreed that the M.H.O. be asked to make such an inspection within the next few days. The M.H.O. will also be asked to give council a monthly report on health conditions generally throughout the town. Constable Antle reported three cases of scarlet fever.

Two samples of drinking water were sent last week for analysis at Edmonton, but no report had been received at the time of the regular meeting.

Approval was given the installation of street lights nearby the J. J. McIntyre residence and the A. McCulloch residence.

Works and Property chairman W. Dutil reported that Inver had started at the creek in West Coleman on Monday morning, to change the course of the creek as it approached the culvert so that it would have a straight run into the culvert instead of hitting it at right angles as at the present time. The creek would also be cleaned where necessary. The work, he reported, was gradually rising.

To aid the tractor, permission had been secured from the Mc-

Gillivray Creek Coal & Coke Company to allow some of the water to flow through the mine culvert at the west end of West Coleman. Care was being taken by town employees that no damage to company property resulted from the water running through the mine culvert. He reported that signs had been posted on the Fifth street dump, regarding refuse. He asked council's permission to have the tractor go to Fifth street and fill in the remaining hole in the old dump with gravel and then level out the Fifth street road, as it was in much need of improvement. Permission was granted.

The tractor was also authorized to be used in covering over many cans and other debris at the sports field.

Debate took place regarding the amount of money to invest in the Fourth Victory Loan. It was revealed that $1,000 was held in the savings account and it was agreed to invest this amount in a bond. Notice of motion to invest the money will be brought in at the next meeting and secretary was authorized to secure the permission of the Minister of Municipal Affairs to invest the money. Meeting adjourned at 11 p.m.

Ritson-Bennett was member of the crew of the Canadian corvette Louisburg when she was sunk by enemy action in the Mediterranean while carrying out her duty in convoy duty in connection with the stirring North African campaign. Ritson-Bennett is but 23 years of age and a member of a widely known Calgary family. He was saved, but three other Albertans gave their lives in that action, adding much to the glory of the Canadian Navy.

A huge throng is expected to hear him on Sunday afternoon.

ABLE SEAMAN WILLIAM M. RITSON-BENNETT Age 23 years. Service in Navy, 1½ years. Born in Calgary, Alberta. THE SINKING OF THE LOUISBURG

The sinking of the Canadian corvette Louisburg was not defeat, nor was it a disastrous loss of life; it was above all victory, for the Louisburg gave protection and life to a badly needed supply Convoy, which arrived with essentials for the Allied Forces which are now crushing Rommel in Tunisia.

To you—the sinking of my ship, the Louisburg, was another soon forgotten headline in your local newspaper; to Ottawa it was epic Canadian Naval History, for she was carrying Canada's fight for Victory far from our yet peaceful shores. She was the first Canadian ship to enter the Mediterranean and the first to die there; also the first to be sunk by a torpedo dive bomber; but to us that sailed on her, she was lost, not as a tragedy, but as the price we had to pay for the right to our Canadian heritage and our freedoms, and for Victory.

Why You Should

Buy the IV VICTORY Loan Bonds

- They Help You Save
- They Help Win the War
- They Earn Money for You
- They Provide Cash in Emergency
- They Will Buy Post-War Goods

Victory Bonds are just like money. They are issued by your Government to you in exchange for a loan. When you buy a Victory Bond you are simply exchanging one form of money for another. Ordinary money is the kind you get when you sell things you raise on your farm, and pay out when you buy things you need. Victory Bonds are a form of bills intended to be saved. And a Victory Bond earns money for you every day you have it. A $100.00 Bond earns $3.00 for you every year. Money invested in Victory Bonds will provide the money we need to buy the things we need when the war is over.

Sir William Phene Neale, Lord Mayor of London in 1930-31, died penniless, said his niece, Mrs. Kathleen M. Canning.

He bequeathed £661 to Mrs. Canning, but she said that she will receive nothing. Mrs. Canning added: "This was due to the cost of his office as Lord Mayor, as well as the fact that, because of the war, his solicitor's business disappeared."

"I know of two other Lord Mayors of London who have died without any money in the last ten years."

The Lord Mayor of London has an allowance of £12,500 a year, but it is estimated that the cost of upholding the office demands at least a further £10,000 from his own pocket.—London Daily Sketch.

In 327 B.C. the armies of Alexander the Great found great numbers of bananas being raised in India.

Community Feeding

Would Be Good Peacetime Project
Said Mrs. Donald Gordon, Community feeding as a peacetime as well as a wartime project for large Canadian cities was proposed by Mrs. Donald Gordon, wife of the Prices Board head, who already is feeding 7,000 Ottawa workers daily in three cafeterias just outside the capital limits.

"I would like to think community feeding is here to stay," she told a press conference. "In places like Ottawa, where presumably there will always be many workers, there is no other solution to the problem."

OPINION OF AMBASSADOR

Dr. Alexander Loudon, the Netherlands Ambassador to the United States, declared in Baltimore, that until Germany is decisively defeated on her own soil and her people punished severely for causing another world war, all post war planning is premature.

REG'AR FELLERS—A Good Lesson

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

APRIL 25

THE RISEN LORD
(Easter Lesson)

Golden text: He is risen. Mark 16:6.
Lesson: John 20:1-17.
Devotional Reading: I Corinthians 15:50-58.

Explanations and Comments

Mary Magdalene Discovers that the Body of Christ Is Not in the Tomb, John 20:1-3. A stone had been placed at the entrance to the tomb in which the body of the crucified Savior had been placed (Mark 15:46) and when Mary Magdalene visited the tomb early Sunday morning she found the stone removed. She hastened to tell Peter and John (John always refers to himself in his Gospel as "the disciple whom Jesus loved"). "They [his enemies] have taken away the Lord out of the tomb, and we know not where they have laid him," she cried.

Peter and John Verify Mary's Discovery, John 20:4-10. Peter and John ran to the tomb. John outran Peter and reached there first. He looked into the tomb, wondering and reverently, and saw the folded linen cloths that had been wrapped around the body of Christ, but did not enter. Then impetuous Peter came up and at once rushed into the tomb to see and doubtless touch—the linen cloths rolled up and the napkin, which had been about the Savior's face, not lying with them, but laid elsewhere. Had friends removed the body they would have taken the cloths with them; had it been done by enemies, they would not have stopped to roll them up. Leisurely and orderly had been Christ's departure.

Mary Magdalene Meets the Risen Lord, John 20:11-17. Mary had followed Peter and John back to the tomb and had remained outside weeping. Looking into the tomb after their departure she saw two angels clothed in white and sitting where the body of Jesus had lain. The Greek word for "angel" means a messenger, and their message for Mary was, "Woman, why weepest thou?" There was no cause for weeping, but they could not help rejoicing—the Lord had risen! Mary answered in the same words she had used to Peter and John: "It is as if these words had been the unceasing refrain of her thoughts all the time. She could think of nothing else. She was magnetized by sorrow" (R. C. Gille). "John's inspired text leads first to conclude that his Lord had risen; Mary's own brought her Lord first to satisfy it," for as she turned she beheld Jesus standing, but she did not recognize him, her eyes being dim with tears.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

FALSEHOOD

Falsehoods not only disagree with truths, but usually quarrel among themselves.—Daniel Webster.

No species of falsehood is more frequent than flattery; to which the coward is betrayed by fear, the dependent by interest, and the friend by tenderness.—Caleb C. Colton.

The telling of a falsehood is like the cut of a sabre; for though the wound may heal, the scar of it will remain.—Saadi.

By using falsehood to regain his liberty, Galileo virtually lost it. He cannot escape from barriers who commits his moral sense to a dungeon.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Falsehood, like the dry rot, flourishes the more in proportion as air and light are excluded.—Richard Whately.

Round dealing is the honor of man's nature; and a mixture of falsehood is like alloy in gold and silver, which may make the metal work the better, but it embaseth it.—Francis Bacon.

WILL LOSE THEIR IDOL

Berlin Radio proclaims that more than a million boys and girls who had reached the age of 14 were sworn into the Hitler Youth Organization recently. Before they reach maturity, says the Montreal Gazette, it is altogether likely that the little recruits will have lost their idol, together with the cause into which in their innocence they have been inveigled.

British corvettes in the 18th century were miniature frigates, designed to protect the larger ships of the line.

In ancient Egypt, slaves and the poorer people usually had no shoes.

Giraud Speaks

General Henri Giraud, high commissioner of French North Africa, is shown as he broadcast his proclamation on the post war aims of the French nation.

What Is Private Enterprise?

"It is the natural desire to make your own way, as far as your ability will take you; an instinct that has brought to this continent the highest standard of life enjoyed by any people on earth. It is the spirit of democracy on the march..."

The above statement, taken from an advertisement recently run by the Royal Bank of Canada, is one that should be memorized by the general public. So often a basic thought is clothed in "whereas" and "be it so ruled," etc., etc., that no one knows when they get through reading just what the writer meant. What propaganda, war or communistic, dare stand up against clear statements like the above which you know to be true?

We congratulate the Royal Bank of Canada and hope they have set a pattern other advertisers to follow. We need reminders of primary truths.

BROUGHT LARGE SUM

An autographed empty cigar box belonging to Prime Minister Churchill was knocked down for about $300 and the proceeds given to Mrs. Churchill's Aid for Russia Fund.

Jim Allan Edits Mount Royal College Paper

A copy of The Scratch Pad, a bi-monthly school paper published by the students of Mount Royal College, Calgary, and which is edited by Coleman's Jim Allan arrived at The Journal office this week.

It contains twenty two pages and records many items of school activity as well as commenting on current topics of the day.

In summing up the year's activities in his editorial Jim relates one instance when it became necessary to barricade the door of his editorial office to protect himself from an irate young lady.

Besides himself Jim had a staff of fourteen to aid in publishing The Scratch Pad and all can be proud of their interesting school paper.
